THE BUTLER GOLD CASE.

Addavit of General Butler in Full-Letters of Counsel, dic.

Before Judge Cardozo. sel Smith and Andrew Smith vs. Ber -We published exclusively yesterday a sketch of the atest developments in this interesting case, but having since procured the full affidavit of General Butler, we lay It before our readers, thus enabling the defendant to give statement in his own language. The affidavit is as follows:—

City and County of New Fork, as:—Benjamin F. Butler, the defendant in the above action, being first duly sworn, doth depose and say as follows:—That he is a citizen of the State of Massachusetts, residing in the city of Lowell; that on or about the 16th day of May, in the year 1861, he was duly commissioned by the President of the United States, and immediately thereupon entered upon the discharge of the duttes assigned to him; that afterwards, and the 23d of February, 1862, by order of George B. McCiellan, Major General commanding the armies of the United States, 'a new military department, to be called the Department of the Gulf, comprising all the coast of the Gulf States was of Fenancola harbor, and so much of said States as may be occupied by the forces of the United States, was constituted, and the command thereof, together with the command of the land forces to co-operate with the navy in the contemplated attack upon and reduction of New Orleans, was assigned to this deponent. That on the 1st day of May, 1862, this deponent, as Major General commanding the forces of the United States, took possession, by capture, of New Orleans as surrendered to the forces and authority of the United States, the said city and State of Louisana then being in a state of rebellion, and, as declared by proclamation of the President, against the government of the United States. That on or about the 19th of May, 1862, being in a state of rebellion, and, as declared by proc-lamation of the President, against the government of the United States. That on or about the 19th of May, 1862, while acting in his aforesaid capacity of Major General, having received information, which this deponent then believed and still believes to be true, that Samuel Smith, & Co., the plannish in this action, were traitors, and bankers acting for and in behalf of the Confederate States then in rebellion, and that they had in their possession, secretly deposited, a large amount of specie which had been fraudulently taken pos-session of by one Guirot, Director of the United States Mint at New Orleans, immediately after the ordi-mance of secession had been passed by the Legislature of the State of Louisiana, and held by him for the use and benefit of said rebellious Confederate States as their agent. And that when, by the joint operations of the benefit of said rebellious Confederate States as their agent. And that when, by the joint operations of the land and naval forces of the United States, said city was about to come into the possession and under the control of the United States, said Guirot had placed said amount in gold in the hands of the plaintiffs, in order that the same might be concealed by them for the use and benefit of the Confederate States; and that, in pursuance of such agreement, the plaintiffs had hidden the same specie within the space between the brick walls of their banking house.

This deponent, acting under and by virtue of his authority as aforesaid, ordered the arrest of the members of said firm of Samuel Smith & Co., and by examination ascerta inset that they had in their possession, a large part of which was hidden as aforesaid, the sam of $50,560. Such seizure being reported to this deponent, he caused the same specie to be secured to the use of the government. And this deponent further says that thereupon the plaintiff applied to this deponent to have a commission appointed to determine the question whether there was probable cause of holding the gold so taken to the use of the United States. Whereupon a commission was agreed upon between the plaintiffs and this deponent to decide upon that question, consisting of William Newton Mercer, Esq. President of the Bank of Louisiana, celected by the plaintiffs; Hon. Thomas J. Durant, of New Orieans, counsellor at law, mutually agreed upon, and Brigader General George F. Shepley, of the United States Volunteers, then Acting Mayor of New Orieans, celected by the plaintiffs appeared by counsel, it was unanimously determined by the commission that all specie or other property serzed beyond the $50,000 in gold should be released, and that with regard to such surplus there is no cause for further detention. With regard to the $50,000, the commission thinks there is ground for detention until the proper department at Washington can be keard from Incompliance, on the 2d day of July, 1862, which was further says that faid sum has even since for this seizure, together with the report of the Commission, containing their testimony, upon which they acted, to the honorable the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington, and asked instructions as to the disposition of said fifty thousand dollars in gold, thus deponent having returned to the plaintiffs the som of $9,540 S. Which was found by the Commission to belong to them. And said deponent further says that faid sum has even since been held by him at all times ready to be turned over and delivered at th HE ARRESTETH YE BANKERS.

This deponent, acting under and by virtue of his authority as aforesaid, ordered the arrest of the members of said firm of Samuel Smith & Co., and by examination in pursuance thereof and the terms of settlement therein and thereby indicated, on the 15th day of Febriary, 1866, this deponent, through his counsel, paid to said Pierreport the amount of $50,000 in gold certificates, which he brought from Massachusetts for this purpose, and received a receipt, a copy of which is contained in Rehedule B, hereto annexed. That this deponent at the time of the commencement of this action against him, and at the time the writ of attachment was issued against the property of this deponent, and at the time of the service thereof, had not, nor has he had any property, real or personal, or mixed, which was the subject of attachment in the State of New York. And this deponent further saith that no property of any kind belonging to him was ever attached by the Sheriff of the city and county of New York, acting under the said attachment and by virtue thereof, or any lien whatever fytained upon this deponents property whatever, by any proceedings had under said writ, and further this deponent suith not.

Only and County of New Fork, in.—John K, Hackert, of call city, heing duly sworn, says that he is informed and believes that said writ of attachment issued in the above entitled action has never been returned by the Sheriff; that such information has been obtained by deponent from one of the clerks in the office of the County Clerk, also from a clerk in the office of the clerk of this court, and further from Addison Brown. JUDGE PIERREPONT TO GENERAL BUTLER. 16 Wall STREET, NEW YORK, Jan. 20, 1866.

Major General BUTUSE — DEAN SIR—Fire facts and circumstances which you communicated at my office yestersky should satisfy any reasonable man that abundant probable cause appeared at the time to justify you, as a public officer, in the original taking of the first thousand dollars ($50,000), in gold, from Samuel Smith & Co.

from Samuel Smith & Co.

Fronty accepting your assurance that the gold has been kept ready to be handed over to whomsoever might appear to be entitled to it. I propose to receive the same for my clients, and thus to end a controversy which an earlier meetings stween us would have relieved of a good deal of misunderstanding. Very respectfully, Scors,

EDWARDS TERREPONT,

Council for Samuel Smath & Co.

GENERAL BUTLER TO JUDGE PIERREPONT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31, 1866.

Bon. Rowanns Pierrerow —

Dean Son—I am gratified that upon examination of the cause of your clients, Samuel Smith & Co. by the light in which it appeared to me, you are satisfied that sufficient probable cause existed for taking the fifty thousand dollars at New Orleans to justify my action as a public officer in a doing.

dollars at New orleans to justify my action as a public officer in so doling.

During the whole time I was in the service of the government I have detained the money, subject to the claims of the party justy entitled to it, whether the United States or your clients. Certainly, I never distinct that it belonged to me. I have notified the covernment of the cut which has been brought against me, and asked that it be detended for the benefit of the United States. After wasting more than a year this has not been done. I am now out of the service, and, as a private citizen do not feel myself called upon to defend a controversy for the government in which I can have no interest, when the interested party does not see lit to delend itself. I cannot with any safety pay the money to the United States, because view I should have no protection but the chance of getting a bill for my relief through Congress, in case a judgment should be obtained by your clients egainst me.

from all impulsation of any from all impulsation of any respectfully, yours, gentlem. I am, respectfully, yours, gentlem.

Literary Intelligence.

"Chivalry and Slavery" and "Young America" are the titles of two satirical poems, forming together about one hundred and eighty pages, and published in a neat volume, by Brady, of Ann street. In the anagram (Sennois Rubeck), which serves as a som de plume for the author, we fancy we detect the name of a cortain the author, we rancy we detect the name of a cortain witty army chaplain, whose effusions of a similar charac-ter have long afforded pleasure and amusement to his military associates. Accompanying it is another volume, entitled "Stanzas to Queen Victoria and Other Poems," consisting mostly of fugitive pieces from the same pen.
Of the two collections we like the political satires the best. The wit is racy, though somewhat Hibernian in flavor, and the versification smooth and flowing. It seems to be the aim of the writer to strike at all the follies and eccentricities of the day, and it must be acknowledged that he is exceedingly happy in most of his hits. Not-withstanding the causticity of its style the book evinces a large share of benevolence and practical philanthropy, and will be read with gratification by all who desire to see an amelioration in the condition of American society. Works of this character are sometimes productive of from the pulpit.

"A Practical Handbook for Miners, Metallurgists and Assayers," by Mr. Julius Silversmith, a writer well known in connection with mining enterprises, forms a metal contribution to the scientific literature of the country. It will be found of equal value to those engaged in mining, either as actual workers, or as owners or shareholders in mining property. It gives a brief re-rume of the geology of metals, quite sufficient for practical purposes, and evidently gathered from the best authorities. It treats of mining in all its branches, for ores and native metals, classifying the several kinds of veins and deposits, and herein exhibits the modes in use in the exploitation of mines, tunnels, shafts, adits, galeries, &c., and the timbering of mines. of the book, as indeed most branches treated, is profusely illustrated by cuts, which much assist the ready comprehension of the matters discussed. A summary of the chemistry and metallurgical treatment of metals follows, and after giving descriptions, accom-panied by engravings, of a large number of the new processes and inventions for treating ores, especially those of the precious metals, the book concludes with an exposition of the mining laws of the Pacific States and territories, &c. The book is published by Van Nostrand, and also by Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco.

Amongst the new novels reprinted by Mr. Brady from the English editions is a clever story by an anonymou author, entitled "Fanny Hervey, or the of fables in verse, written by a lady who signs hers if Julia Matilda Julius. It is evident, notwithstanding some indications of talent, that the writer is young and ance with the rules of versification. In the composition of fables, especially, it is requisite that the sense shall not only be forcible, but that it shall be expressed in the simplest and closest ryhme. The author of this volume seems utterly unconscious of the fact, and, accordingly,
